

a switch including a Belleville washer; and a piezoelectric element arranged to be directly distressed by direct contacting by the Belleville washer upon actuation of the switch by a user causing a single snap action of the Belleville washer so as to produce power for operation of the wireless transmitter.